PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING INFORMED CONSENT CONTRACT

A Psychological Evaluation is somewhat different than other psychological services. The evaluation consists of two separate parts: an interview and psychological testing. In addition, it may be necessary to review documents such as medical records and to speak with other individuals who can provide information concerning your circumstance. You will be requested to sign a separate document before contact with any person or organization in the course of this evaluation.

The fee for this service is $200.00 per hour. I maintain a time log of all activities associated with the evaluation and charges are prorated to the quarter hour. Activities beyond the interview and testing such as records review, contact with third party sources, assessing test results, and report writing are billed services. There will also be a $100.00 fee associated with testing materials and test scoring. The full fee for the evaluation, based on the time spent conducting the evaluation, is due upon completion of the evaluation report and prior to its release.

Your medical insurance may reimburse for a portion, or all, of the cost of the evaluation. If your medical insurance reimburses for a portion of the cost, you will be asked to sign a form acknowledging consent to pay any portion of the cost not covered by your insurance.

If you have a question about any aspect of the evaluation, please feel free to ask. Once the evaluation is completed, at your request, I will have a meeting with you to explain the results and answer any questions you might have. This is not a required step to complete the evaluation. There is a charge for this consultation in addition to the cost of the evaluation itself.
